IN HONOR OF THE 2011 FERNANDO AWARD RECIPIENT GARY THOMAS

HON. ELTON GALLEGLY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 30, 2011

Mr. GALLEGLY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor Gary Thomas—businessman, civic activist and a very good friend to my wife, Janice, and me—as he is recognized this Friday as the 53rd recipient of the annual Fernando Award.

The Fernando Award is the highest award in California's San Fernando Valley that recognizes exceptional volunteer efforts. It often has been called the Academy Award of Volunteerism in the San Fernando Valley and is one of the top awards for civic accomplishments in the United States.

Gary is well-deserving of this honor.

Gary's community service and volunteerism has spanned more than 37 years and has involved Chambers of Commerce, organizations that have political impact in the San Fernando Valley, anti-gang programs, youth development organizations, leadership and business programs, and nonprofit organizations.

Gary is responsible for creating many innovative fundraising programs for Valley nonprofits and has helped raise more than $5 million for the nearly 30 nonprofit organizations for which he has served in leadership positions.

He has served on the Boys & Girls Club of the West for the past 13 years and is currently Chairman of the Board for the fifth year. Gary has served in leadership positions with the Economic Alliance of the San Fernando Valley, United Chambers of the San Fernando Valley; the Valley Business Corps, and the Wellness Community for the Valley and Ventura.

Gary also has been active with the San Fernando Valley Business Advisory Commission and the San Fernando Valley Charitable Foundation.

Although Gary is being recognized for his activities in the San Fernando Valley, I know firsthand that he has also been active in many nonprofit and business activities in Ventura County as well.

A successful businessman, Gary is Senior Vice President and Creative Director for Aaron, Thomas & Associates in Chatsworth, a company that specializes in creative consulting, graphic design, printing, and direct mail services to the political sector and the general corporate market throughout the United States.

Mr. Speaker, I know my colleagues join Janice and me in congratulating Gary Thomas for the honor of being the 2011 Fernando Award Recipient and in thanking him for making his community a better place for all to live, work, and thrive.

RECOGNIZING LIEUTENANT GENERAL WILLIAM E. INGRAM, JR.

HON. G.K. BUTTERFIELD

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 30, 2011

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize the accomplishments of a truly great soldier and North Carolinian, Lieutenant General William E. Ingram, Jr. In a recent Senate Armed Services Committee hearing on November 10th, 2011, Lieutenant General Ingram was confirmed as Director of the Army National Guard and on Monday, November 28th, 2011 he officially assumed the duties of the position. Also on November 28th, 2011, Lieutenant General Ingram received his new star from Army General Ray Odierno, chief of staff of the Army, and Air Force General Craig McKinley, chief of the National Guard Bureau.

For nearly four decades Lieutenant General Ingram has served our nation as an officer in the Army National Guard. He has commanded at all levels from platoon to battalion, overseas, and was especially effective as the Adjutant General of North Carolina for over nine years. I have no doubt in his ability to accomplish the wide-ranging requirements placed on the shoulders of the Director of the Army National Guard. He will perform his duties well, with honor and enthusiasm.

Lieutenant General Ingram was born and raised in Elizabeth City, North Carolina, and was a longtime resident of Williamston, North Carolina. I am proud to say both are located in the First Congressional District, which I have the honor of representing. His wife, Lil, has also been a tremendous asset to National Guard families and the citizens of North Carolina. She has worked tirelessly as an advocate for North Carolina National Guard families to help them cope with the deployment of family members through several children's programs, the Family Readiness Program, and even as a co-author of a book for children of Wounded Warriors.

Lieutenant General Ingram is a source of great pride for eastern North Carolina. I have witnessed the progression of his career over the years and I am very proud to see his dedication, sacrifices, and contributions recognized with this appointment and promotion. I offer my sincere appreciation for his service to the United States of America and the great state of North Carolina. I ask that my colleagues join me in congratulating Lieutenant General William E. Ingram, Jr. on receiving his recent promotion to the rank of lieutenant general and his appointment as Director of the Army National Guard.

HONORING JENNIE STULTZ

HON. SUE WILKINS MYRICK

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 30, 2011

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, Jennie Stultz, mayor of Gastonia, NC, has a motto—"city pride." I couldn't have described her any better myself.

Jennie is retiring in a few weeks, after 12 years as mayor of Gastonia. Her impact on the city will be long-lasting and her leadership greatly missed.

Jennie did that which is most important as a mayor and a native of Gastonia—she put the good of her city first. Partisan politics always took a backseat to making sure that everyone had a seat at the table when making the decisions that moved Gastonia forward.

And move forward it did. Jennie was committed to economic and residential development, and made decisions that brought businesses and residents to Gastonia. She credits the redevelopment of downtown Gastonia as one of her greatest accomplishments—an accomplishment of which she should be very proud.

Under Jennie's tenure, Gastonia was twice named an All-America City, an award that commends the innovation and civic engagement of the city.

Even after all of this, Jennie's best quality is being able to laugh at herself. She takes her job seriously—no doubt about it—but she doesn't take herself seriously. As an elected official at any level, and especially in our current political climate, that's definitely an asset.

Anyone who has ever worked with Jennie will tell you that she's a joy to be around. I have greatly enjoyed both the professional and personal relationship that we've shared throughout the years, and know that our friendship is a lasting one.

Gastonia has never had a bigger cheerleader than Mayor Jennie Stultz. There is no doubt that she loves the people and the place, and they love her back. She will be missed, but even though she won't be mayor, we all look forward to the continued contributions that Jennie will make to Gastonia, NC.

Most notably, Samuel has contributed to his community through his Eagle Scout project.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO THE LIFE OF RODNEY CARROLL

HON. CHARLES B. RANGEL

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 30, 2011

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, it is with great sadness that I rise to honor the life of Rodney Carroll, a community activist from my district. Rodney was a very active member of his community, a loving husband and father.

Rodney's work with the Department of Youth and Community Development will live on forever in the city of New York. As Vice-Chair of the Community Action Board he had a sincere enthusiasm for this position. He was a very determined person and would do everything he could to achieve his goal of making sure the youth and their families would have community organizations that were effective to their needs. His work with Social Service Employee Union Local 371, DC 37 as a staff representative and organizer also will never be forgotten. He continuously fought for workers rights in the community. Rodney was the definition of a true Harlemit. The future of New York City's youth has vastly improved because of the work this man has accomplished.

Rodney believed in our youngsters and their work. They are most fortunate to have had someone like him stand up for what's right and get them the resources that they deserve.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that you and my colleagues join me in paying tribute to the life of this very honorable man. Let's encourage others to continue helping communities the way Rodney Carroll did. Our body must continue to recognize community leaders like him because they are the one's who have a direct impact on the lives of the children in our communities. The youth in this country are better off because of people like Rodney.
